4. The student should complete the proforma at this link, which includes a short statement (max 100 words) on why they would like to attend the Symposium.
5. Applications which meet the criteria will be placed into a draw and two entries drawn at random will be awarded the prize.
6. Applications must reach the CIGRE Australia office no later than midnight 31 July 2023 AEST. Submission details are contained in the survey link below. Late applications will not be accepted.

Note: The recipients of the award must attend the Symposium in full including all NGN events and the evening networking function.

Following the Symposium, award recipients must submit a short commentary (200 words) on their experiences at the Symposium which will be published online and in CIGRE's In The Loop newsletter. (The award recipients will be reimbursed the cash component of the award upon receipt of the post Symposium short commentary/article)

This is a great opportunity to attend an international power conference without leaving Australia.

We have eleven (11) of the sixteen (16) Global Study committees attending and over 250 technical papers being presented, plus the CIDER (Conference on the Integration of Distributed Energy Resources) and SEAPAC (South East Asia Protection Automation and Control) conferences being run conjointly with the Symposium.

We are anticipating over 700 delegates from across the breadth of the power industry, so this presents a great opportunity to hear and learn of what is happening in the Energy Transition space and to begin to establish your industry contacts which will last your career.

Symposium details can be found [HERE \(https://cigre Cairns 23.com.au/\)](https://cigre Cairns 23.com.au/) and contain more information about the Symposium and what we have planned.

To ENTER please complete the attached survey monkey entry form

ALL Entries must be submitted BEFORE midnight AEST on 31 July 2023.

Award recipients will be notified by 4th August 2023.
